

Why two (even redundant) targets kept claw_length honest — and one does not (band tilts exaggerated for visibility; schematic)

OLD: two targets (f_q and α)
two imperfect graders that only agree near real designs

NEW: one target (E_C) one grader, satisfied along the entire line

